

Gasper Gulotta
Senior Associate

Gasper Gulotta graduated from the United States Military Academy at WestPoint and served in the US Army for over 25 years as an aviator and nuclear weapons officer. In the civilian sector, Gasper worked in major defense contractors, running P&L organizations of over $400M in revenue. In both the military and civilian positions, Gasper has extensive experience working with highly technical people in research and development of varied technologies.

In the Pacific Northwest, Gasper has served as Chief Operating Officer of a Telecommunications Managed Services provider and consulted in the field of Mergers and Acquisitions, preparing businesses for the rigors of a corporate exit. Gasper's work with ISG includes multiple Quality Assurance contracts, applying his extensive business experience to help organizations successfully deploy IT contracts and realize increased performance and reduce project risk. His work with State agencies is noteworthy in business process improvement activities and applications of general business management best practices to increase organizational effectiveness.

Gasper's passion is to maximize organizational efficiency by using the amazing people in the organization. He holds a Master of Science in Systems Management from USC; a Master of Science degree from the Nuclear Engineering Department at MIT; a Master of Arts in Strategic Studies from Air University and a Doctorate of Strategic Leadership from Faith International University in Tacoma.

Gasper enjoys the outdoors, spending time with his family, and driving his 1977 GMC on the weekends.
