

Emily Davis
Engagement Lead

Emily Davis is a proven behavior change thought leader and transformational program manager. Emily is grounded in Vinyasa Yoga teaching practices, a rigorous degree in Business Administration from the College of William and Mary, and a Masters of Business Administration program from the University of St. Thomas. Theoretical and academic work is complemented with a blend of consulting and operational leadership roles over a twenty year career serving clients and driving multiple entrepreneurial endeavors.

Emily is adaptable and a steady leader throughout all aspects of complex projects. Emily is skilled in systems thinking, large technology implementation leadership, cross-functional team management, and optimizing operations.

Emily applies a strong work ethic, unwavering integrity, and a genuine public service orientation to her work. When Emily is not serving her clients she is enjoying time with her family and evolving her non-profit, Heroine to Himalayas, focused on spreading yoga and helping humanity battle addiction.