

Dana Whitford
Senior Project Manager

Dana will be managing our new project for the Department of Services for the Blind (DSB). The DSB project is the modernization of all the DSB-managed cafeterias around the state. Many of us, pre-Covid, visited those cafeterias in our on-site meetings with customers. They are a shining example of communities working together to ensure everyone is thriving.

Dana brings over 20 years of experience working as a project manager and has managed enterprise Information Technology projects worldwide. Dana's last stop was as a consultant for Amazon. She led a team that developed a ground-up program for designing, manufacturing & deploying custom MDF solutions for Amazon distribution centers nationally and globally. Before working for Amazon, Dana was a Program Manager for Seattle Children's Hospital and Costco, managing enterprise-wide technology deployments.

Prior to consulting, Dana worked for the University of Washington, programming and deploying telecommunications and data services throughout UW's Washington campuses.
