

Allison Lombardo
TAS Manager

Allison brings over 13 years of experience in the private sector developing strategy and driving execution for cross-functional teams within a diverse set of industries and functional areas. Throughout her career, she has transitioned her expertise from orchestrating dynamic, large-scale marketing campaigns to the management of highly complex software strategy and implementation projects. Allison is skilled at deconstructing intricate challenges and navigating ambiguity by establishing structure and process. She is a results-oriented leader with the proven ability to extract requirements, maintain scope, and lead cross-functional teams to deliver solutions that meet a project's vision and objectives. A committed partner to clients and teammates alike, Allison is dedicated to creating environments that foster trust, breed compassion, and prioritize well-being.

Outside of work, Allison loves to downhill ski, see live music, and attend Seattle Kraken NHL games. She enjoys traveling and exploring local foods and fashions in the cities that she visits.
