

Nicolette Sulaiman
OCM Consultant

Nicolette is a versatile and results-oriented consultant with expertise in organizational change management and a demonstrated track record of success in communications strategy, adult learning enablement, tactical planning, and program development. She utilizes dynamic forward-thinking and keen attention-to-detail to deliver measurable solutions and operational improvement. She's a focused and self-motivated professional who employs strong communication and analytical skills to work with cross-functional teams and clients to successfully complete projects. Nicolette centers the client experience ensuring that each impacted party is heard, and solutions are delivered in an equitable manner.

Internally, she consistently considers her colleagues while pushing for efficient work delivery and prioritizes relationship building. Nicolette is a seasoned live music connoisseur, self-proclaimed "house music head" and avid admirer of the architecture in her neighborhood: the Chicago Loop. "At the core of my professional career, I want to do good work, treat people well and be treated well."-Nicolette